

The War on Death Campaign

Petrene Soames, author of The Essence of Self-Healing has declared "The War on Death Campaign" - as one of her major projects.

"I named the project War on Death because I feel it's time to remove the veil of ignorance which we romanticize surrounding the issue and concept of death. The world en-masse is in need of re-realizing what life and death really is after a forever disconnection, and to recognize the deep sense of isolation that exists in individuals because of our disconnection. Death is not an absolute. We are already living in forever. I feel it is time to bring down the walls, the lines and the barriers. The keys are here and now. We are both physical and non-physical beings; we are not simply dead or alive, but both." said Ms Soames.

Fifty volunteers selected nationwide were transported forward in time to their last conscious moments in their present life. They then were shown how to let go of this life, and see and experience by themselves what comes next. The technique used is called "Progression" and requires no hypnosis.

"The technique is not new and has been used by Masters-Avatars and spiritual beings since time began". Petrene Soames is the first psychic and paranormal expert to successfully have taken two people forward in time on live national television. "People who have passed through their death experience report positive changes such as greater control in their lives, peace, calm, greater focus, keener perception, and cessation of fears." said Ms Soames.

Video recording of the sessions and interviews with the volunteers are available. The material could also make a great documentary.
